FROM THE PRESIDENT

7 Hello Club Members,

I am glad to announce that we have a new volunteer to chair the open rescue committee. That is Rebecca Seffl. Thank you for stepping forward.

8 The Board is thankful that we have just enough volunteers , but some new faces would be beneficial too eventually pass on the torch. Please email ISCS D if you can help out. (iscsd@san.rr.com).

10 I hope that in the upcoming months you have plenty of time with your furry friends, whether it be at home, shows, or on vacation.

Woof

THE DOGS WE LOVE

Irish Setters are one of the most eye-catching breeds about. The long auburn coat, big brown eyes and soft-as-silk ears, along with their unbeatable exuberance for life mean that Irish setter lovers are lifetime fans. But along with that butter-wouldn't-melt expression comes some daily struggles that every Irish setter owner will definitely relate to.

WHAT'S YOURS IS MINE

You know how it is... long day at work, favourite show on tv, you're looking forward to snuggling into your favourite chair and... Oh wait, someone else is in it. And are they going to move? Nope.

THE STUBBORNE SS

They may be pretty to look at, but the stubborn streak that comes with that lovely coat can drive even the most patient of owners crazy...

Career Criminals

Irish setters have a sneaky side that may take you by surprise when you realise your favourite hairbrush, pair of shoes or a three-tiered red velvet cake has disappeared.

ESCAPE ARTISTS

Don't let the dopey-eyed expression fool you, when it comes to escaping, Irish setters are cleverer than they look. Opening doors, burrowing, eating their way through, you name it, if your setter wants to find a way out of somewhere, they will....

THEY DON'T GET HOW BIG THEY ARE

It was fine to sit on your lap as a puppy, so why can't your setter sit on your lap now?

THE MUD

Along with a wilful zest for life, comes a wilful zest for puddles. And streams, mud, the sea, dung heaps, grassfields, sandpits, dust bowls, the list goes on. If there is something that is going to mess up it's beautiful coat, you can be sure your Irish setter is going to find it. Then roll in it.

GROOMING NIGHTMARES

Long haired coat + love of rolling in mud = a LOT of grooming

However, no matter how many times your socks get stolen, your dinner parties are interrupted by unwanted guests or you have to brush half a forest out of your setter's coat, you can never stay mad with them. Why? Because one look at a face like this and everything is forgiven.

Thank you Valerie for all your hard work trying to get everything to work out timewise for the club. We appreciate your efforts!
